dedication

With a sure purpose born of four years' living at Indiana, the graduating class of 1952 approaches its goal, to join the ranks of those vitally important persons, the teachers of Pennsylvania.

It is to the Senior class, the future teachers of the commonwealth who stand ready to begin their chosen work, that we dedicate this book.

May you accept it as our pledge to you that all the vivid memories you cherish of your Indiana days will continue from year to year. We look forward to the time when we, too, will become a part of the college tradition, when we will join you in the schools of Pennsylvania.

administration

From early Grecian times, the world has recognized the importance of democracy. Cooperation between the college administration and the students puts democratic ideals into practice in campus government.

Dr. and Mrs. Pratt in their apartment.

For more than three quarters of a century, Indiana has been preparing teachers for the public schools of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. Throughout the years this has been an honored and important undertaking. The roats of our democratic system have been nurtured and strengthened by our public school system. The public recognition of the importance of education in a democratic society has elevated teaching to a professional status of great importance in our society.

The future of the nation, and indeed of the world, depends today upon an educated citizenry. The challenges confronting our democratic way of life have been, and will be in the future, successfully met by our educational system. The preservation of democracy in America can be credited largely to the loyalty and selfless service of the teachers in our public schools. The future of America can only be assured if we prepare well-qualified teachers to inculcate in the youth of our land the democratic ideals for which America stands.

Teaching in the future assumes an even greater role in the destiny of mankind. Teachers will be called upon in the years ahead, not only to preserve democracy throughout the world, but to bring suppressed peoples everywhere the "truth that shall make them free". We know that only in an enlightened world can there be peace and stability which all men covet.

Indiana is one of the chief institutions in the country whose sole responsibility is to prepare young men and women to be teachers of tomorrow, equipped not only to preserve the tenets of democracy at home but to carry the light of knowledge and truth throughout the world.

Guiding the college careers of future Pennsylvania teachers is a job that requires the wisdom of experience, ability to make decisions, and cooperation. The administrative staff not only must be familiar with the individual records of students, but also must handle finances and public relations of the college. Through all this, their personal interest gives us confidence that we are on the right track toward taking our places in the schools of the commonwealth.

Opportunities to specialize in one or more of the art fields, and at the same time to acquire a broad cultural background, comprise the Art Department curriculum. Outside actual classroom work, the department activities center around the Art Club and its subdivisions, the Crafts Guild and the Photography Club. This year we enjoyed a spirited Christmas party, staged the annual Beaux Arts Ball in April, with an "Arabian Nights" setting, and held the clothesline exhibit of paintings at Swing Out. Officers of the Art Club are Bill Pasternak, president; Tom Lehnert, vice-president; Joann Wehler, secretary; and Paul Erickson, treasurer.

The two-fold function of the Music Department is the preparation and development of public school music teachers and extra-professional music education. All music majors are members of the Music Educators' Club. Two representatives from each class and the officers of the club comprise the Music Student Council, which meets separately and with the faculty to discuss problems and plan activities. Officers of the club are Charles Rybacki, president; Paul Thompson, vice-president; Gwen Lewis, secretary-treasurer; Clel T. Silvey, adviser.

Elementaries gather in the Keith demonstration raam for a professianal meeting.

The Elementary Education program develops knowledges of children of elementary school age and of materials and methods of the elementary school, culminating with supervised participation and student teaching. The Elementary Club is affiliated with the Association for Childhood Education International. This year the club compiled student directories, held a "Welcome Freshmen" party, sponsored professional meetings, and sent delegates to the ACE convention in Philadelphia. Officers are Lois Thomas, president; Peggy Kracht, vice-president; Shirley Ort, secretary; Barbara Stanier, treasurer. Irene Russell and Alice St. Clair are club advisers.

Secondary Education is made up of six departments, including English and Speech, Foreign Languages, Geography, Mathematics, Science and Social Studies. The division offers a Bachelor of Science degree in education to students completing a minimum of 24 hours in a major field and 18 hours in a minor field. Official organization of the division is the Secondary Education Club, which coordinates business and social activities. James Cornell is president; Richard Froggatt, vice-president; James McKenna, secretary; Dr. Joy Mahachek, adviser.

KEITH SCHOOL

What is teaching like? What does o teacher need to know? How will I know what to expect of children? Is the teaching profession a wise chaice for me? Students, looking forward to teaching as a profession, come to Indiana seeking an understanding af these problems. The John A.H. Keith School provides oppartunities for exploratory experiences under guided direction. With the help of capable supervisors, students gain experience as participants in an actual school situation, as well as knowledge through their observation af classes.

Full-time responsible student teaching translates into teaching power the sum-tatal of knowledge and experience gained throughout a student's entire callege life. The facilities and staff of Keith School are prepared to insure the best in professional experiences for these future teachers of Pennsylvania.

Next year at this time, most of us will be teoching in schools all over Pennsylvania. But we have much to remember about our years at Indiana, dear memories that will recur again and again as we go about our work each day. When we get together, we'll recall the class prom, "Fall Festival," which was held September 29 in recreation hall. We'll rehash the class outing and picnic, but most of all, we'll remember Swing Out, which was our special weekend in May.

Making our class the best that ever attended Indiana State Teachers College was the major project of the juniors this year. Having attained the long-awaited goal of Junior Standing, we are ready to enter our final year of preparation in becoming Pennsylvania teachers. Activities, besides several business meetings, included winter frolics, competitive bowling within the class, and the traditional prom in April. The annual outing in October with the antics of Jules Filcik in the suitcase race and the pie eating of John Pancella will not be forgotten.

The gavel is the tangible symbol of the leader, and cooperation is the intangible necessity for success in any group enterprise.

As the coordinating body for campus organizations and extra-curricular activities, Student Council has for its main purpose to provide an intelligent student government. We worked together in carrying on freshman customs, the Mellowmen concert for the band uniform fund drive, and "It's Laughter We're After." In December, the council held an open meeting for which the students had asked. A committee chairman, Jesse Hornyak, has been appointed to publicize student council, bringing it and the student body into closer and more effective contact. Officers are James Stewart, president; Auleen Thomas, vicepresident; Jan Schnell, secretary.

The W.C.A. is the governing body for all resident women. The council is composed of a president from each hall in John Sutton and Clark and from the women's cottages. This year we sponsored a Halloween party, faculty frolics, two open meetings, the installation of new officers, and a survey of student needs and desires for the dorms. Officers are Anne Thompson, president; Vivian Gall, vice-president; Lois Kuhns, secretary, and Luana Knavel, treasurer.

With a larger group than ever, the Non-Resident Women's League continued to prove itself a worthwhile campus organization. The project for the year was the redecorating of the downstairs lunchroom. With Miss Faust as an adviser, we participated in two lodge outings and Christmas and Easter parties. Officers are: Dorothy Lingenfelter, president; Mary Basso, vice-president; and Christine Yanity, secretary-treasurer.

Advisory Baard says "cheese."

Intelligent acceptance of responsibility and wise use of freedom by dorm residents is our goal as members of the governing board for resident women. In our weekly meetings with Miss Faust, we discuss means of helping resident women live together cooperatively. We also receive complaints and handle infractions of dorm rules. Officers are Marilyn Hillegas, chairman; Sally Sheeren, secretary; Anne Thompson, president of W.C.A.; and two representatives of the sophomore, junior, and senior classes.

Members of Social Life try each year to provide the extro things that moke campus life smoother. Out of our treasury come subscriptions to magazines and newspapers for reception lounge. We finance weekday and Saturday dances, all-school teas, and the full-length films that are shown throughout the year. This year we warked with the WCA to sponsor the freshman party, bought chairs for Lewis House, and maintained equipment for the men's lounge.

Social Life Committee make plans

Choosing a series of top cultural entertainment in accord with student interest is an annual project for our committee, with A. E. Drumheller as our adviser. One representative of each department is elected annually. This year we chose the Basque Singers and Dancers, the Virginia Barter Theater presenting "Merchant of Venice," Lucile Cummins, contralto soloist; Dwight Cooke, commentator; the Pittsburgh Symphony with Paul Paray conducting, and the Pennsylvania Intercollegiate Chorus.

The official handbook of the college is distributed before the opening of the fall semester as a guide to students. It contains listings of regulations governing students and student activities, plus descriptions of all campus organizations, curricular and extracurricular. A calendar for the year completes the booklet. Members of the staff are Jan Schnell, editor; Bill Pasternak, art editor; Marianne Calterone, Marshall Del Greco, Delores Domenick, Jules Filcik, Linda Fox, Phyllis Hoffman, Phyllis James, Sam Nedrow, Boyd Plymire, Jim Vinton, and Beverly Ward.

Through another successful year, the Indiana PENN has maintained its purpose as an independent student voice on this campus. Supervised by Student Council-elected editors, the PENN staff continues to present uncensored news, features and sports to its readers at ISTC and colleges throughout the nation. We are proud to uphold the tradition of freedom of the press in a weekly publication which has captured four All-American awards from the Associated Collegiate Press, as well as other top honors for newspapers of its class.

Between the covers of a yearbook is captured for all time a vital chain of incidents that links the past with the present, and gives pramise of a successful future. Each event of a college year influences the personality and enriches the experience of the individual student participant. The 1952 OAK strives that none of us shall forget the satisfaction of work well done, the moments of decision, and the hours of pleasure that have been ours. To assure that goal, we present you in the personal way that you will best remember.

religious life committee

We are a committee of six faculty members and nine students responsible for the religious activities of the college. Two of our activities are planning and arranging for the monthly vespers and the Spiritual Enrichment Week program. "Faith—the answer?" was the theme of the week. The movie "One God" was shown in February. We also coordinate activities of the YWCA, YMCA and the college church clubs. Chairmen of the committee are Marilyn Wolfe and Dr. Dorcas Hall.

Associated with the Intervarsity Christian Fellowship, a nationwide organization, our group successfully completed its second year on campus. Main activities included a fall conference at Seneca Hills, several Sunday morning retreats, and parties at Halloween and Christmas. Closing the year was a fellowship breakfast at the college ladge. Officers are Gretchen Tress, president; Jane Hoyman, vice-president; Donna Gerner, secretary; Tom McMillan, treasurer; Hazel Ober, adviser.

To foster close fellowship and maintain religious consciousness among the men of the college is the keynote of the YMCA's activities. A spirit of good fun united us this year in the freshman sing, intramural sports, the annual outing, a retreat at the college lodge, a hayride, and the traditional dinner in December. Officers are Dale Young, president; Doug Fleshman, vice-president; Charles Flint, secretary-treasurer; and Donald Hoffmaster, adviser.

One of the most highly organized groups on campus, our aim is finding a home for a displaced German student who will attend the college. A "Big-Little Sister Party" initiated our year's activities, which included morning watch services, clothing drives and teas for resident women. Dolores Elden is president; Zoann Stoughton, vice-president; Bertha Miller, secretary; and Joyce Mellon, treasurer. Advisers are Mrs. Mary Swarts and Dorothy Murdock.

Participating in area Sunday worship services and the Christ Church choir are two outstanding projects of the Episcopal Church Club. This year Canterbury Club members also assisted in the church nursery school. Our monthly supper meetings were a pleasant mixture of business and social planning, and we also visited Canterbury House at Carnegie Tech. Officers are Willard Brown, president; and Carolyn Ghrist, treasurer; Col. Hubert Thornber, Adviser.

A chili supper at the United Presbyterian Church initiated a full year of monthly get-togethers for us. In October, we enjoyed a hayride; in November, a Thanksgiving breakfast; in December, a Christmas party complete with carol singing; and in March, a scavenger hunt. Officers are Vance Enck, president; Don Calhoun, vice-president; Laura Emrick, secretary and Bob Antanaitis, treasurer.

At weekly discussion groups, Methodist Club members planned several projects with the aim of getting acquainted with the people of our church. We also played Santa Claus to a needy Indiana family, and sponsored hay rides. Officers of the club are Bob Behers, president; Dorothy Karns, vice-president; Joanne Wolfe, secretary; and Clyde Knarr, treasurer. Adviser is Lola Beelar.

A full year of activities for Newman Club members included a fall outing in October, a Christmas Communion breakfast, an outing at the college lodge and an Easter Communion breakfast in March. We also enjoyed Sunday bowling at the Indiana Catholic Center. Officers of the club include Eileen Hanzel, president; Gilda Castello, vice-president; Rose Marie Santucci, corresponding secretary; Lois Knoll, recording secretary; and Toni Zeoli, treasurer. Adviser is Leola T. Hayes.

Retreats at the college lodge, a Christmas party, Easter breakfast, roller skating, a hobo dinner, and a youth banquet were some of the highlights of the year. Our group aims are reading and understanding the Bible, fellowship among the Presbyterian students, taking an active part in community affairs, and training in Christian leadership. Officers are Edith Marstellar, president; Anita Malone, vice-president; Marilyn Miller, secretary-treasurer; and Jane Blue, adviser.

winter sports club

Open to all students, the Winter Sports Club has the largest membership of all the campus organizations. This year we opened the season with a fall hike ending at the college lodge. Roller skating parties and snow parties at the lodge when the weather was favorable rounded out our plans. Merrill lams is the club adviser.

IRC is composed of students who wish to gain an understanding of current international problems through lectures, forums, and discussions of world problems. This year we sent delegates to the Middle Atlantic States Model National Assembly, the Middle States Regional Conference of the Carnegie Foundation for Universal Peace, and the Pennsylvania State International Relations Clubs Conference. Officers of the club are president, Francis Balint; vice president, Ann Funk; secretary, Mary Jane Bell; treasurer, Michalene Terpak; adviser, Florence Wallace.

intercollegiate conference on government Practice in parliamentary procedure and discussion of current political issues are the goals toward which we work throughout the year in preparation for the annual convention in April. It is at this four-day get-together with other Pennsylvania colleges that we test knowledge of governmental organization and procedure through practical application. This year delegates to the Harrisburg convention held a political party convention, complete with platform making, nominating speeches, and the inevitable smokefilled rooms. Officers are president, Dick Heiges; vice-president, Charles Pauley; secretary-treasurer, Betty Ann Kummer; adviser, C. M. Johnson.

Boasting representatives from five out of six departments, the Science Club this year enjoyed hikes and a dinner outing, plus a tour through the Bell Telephone switchboard. Guest speakers and observation of Keith School science projects completed our activities. Officers of the club are Thelma Kuzman, president; Matthew Bruce, secretary; Clyde Knarr, treasurer; Willis Bell, adviser.

As the campus dramatic organization, Masquers offers a chance for any interested student to participate in stage production. The thirty points for membership can be earned in any of the various production fields. This year we presented "Green Valley," and staged "The Tragical History of Dr. Faustus" and "Gammer Gurton's Needle," the latter of which went on tour. Officers are Nellie Mae Johnson, president; Barbara Mazziotti, vice-president; Nancy Tredick, secretary-treasurer; and Robert W. Ensley, director.

Composed of all English and speech majors and minors, the group met this year during advisory period to discuss activities. We held the annual fall outing at the college lodge, and a professional meeting. Dr. Rhodes R. Stabley is club adviser.

Marching band in full regalia.

Providing half-time performances for all the home football games, as well as the away game at Shippensburg, was the major accomplishment of the 70-member Indiana marching band last fall. Directed by C. David Mc-Naughton, we also participated in the Armistice Day parade. Student assistants are Bob Pohl, John Wallace, and Carl Truxal, with arrangements done by Bob Bernat. Drum major for the organization was Val Stanley.

Seventy-five members strong, the ISTC concert band presented two convocations, one in January and one May 6 with the women's glee club. The formal spring concert was given March 11. Music appreciation hours for the elementary school children of Indiana and Saltsburg rounded out our public appearances. Organization officers are Jack Dahlinger, president; Tom Groves, vice-president; Carolyn Chelgren, secretary; Earl Shafer and Bob Bernat, student conductors. C. David McNaughton is director.

Playing in an organized conference for the first time in the school's history, Coach Sam Smith's varsity gridders ended their season in November with the best record an Indiana football team has been able to put together in the post-war era.

Though their 5-3-1 result should have stood them in better stead, they wound up the first year of conference play tied with Edinboro for ninth place. They were, however, the only team in the league whose schedule was composed completely of conference rivals.

On Memorial field, the Big Indians were far superior to what they were on the road. They didn't lose a game on the home lot but met with serious trouble every time they took the road. Besides the three losses, which all occurred on enemy ground, Edinboro succeeded in first marring the bid for a perfect season with a 20-20 tie there midway through October.

The best-played game of the season was the Homecoming Day tussle with California. The fighting Warriors thrilled the overflow crowd by coming from behind to defeat the highly-touted Vulcans, 13-6, thus depriving them of an undefeated season.

Five seniors, Bill Joseph, Ron Huber, Al Barnett, Joe Caletri and Jack McGlaughlin, brought their college careers to an end in fine style.

Coach Regis McKnight's Indian dribblers this year put together a nine and eleven mark in meeting a tough 20-game schedule that included top-notch teams from the STC conference and top-flight independent schools from the area. A lot of experienced material was back to build upon, but the loss of three titans— Watson, Bailey and DeLise—left the team with an undesirable height disadvantage. The Braves found conference opposition far superior to exhibition material, winning only three from and losing nine to STC rivals. Chet Gurski, transferee from N.C. State, paced the scoring race from his pivot post, while guard Skip Hays was runner-up. The ineligibility of guard Tex George during the first semester and numerous injuries, most notable that which kept highscoring Ray Morgan on the shelf the major part of the campaign, hurt chances considerably.

With little experienced help back from a good 1950 season, Sam Smith's varsity batters played out their 11-game schedule to a five and six record, recording four of the five victories on Memorial field. Injuries to key hurlers Jace Swauger and Peter Palmer didn't help the moundstaff, and the catching and infield posts were riddled with graduations. Probably the biggest win of the season was a 4-1 beating handed the Duquesne Dukes. 10-3 and 14-0 scores over St. Francis and Juniata, respectively, were the largest scores over the opposition. St. Francis met a second defeat, 2-1, and Clarion was edged, 7-6. Three of the losses were by narrow margins—Juniata, 7-9; California, 3-4; and Shippensburg, 10-7. Millersville, 1-8; Clarion, 0-9; and Slippery Rock, 1-18; were the bleakest results of the campaign.

Closing the season with a record of two wins and six losses, Coach Lewis Shaffer's wrestlers took fourth place honors in the annual class "B" wrestling tournament at Lock Haven State Teachers College. Of the two wins, both were registered against Carnegie Tech in consecutive matches. Ed Branish pinned five men in varsity competition to emerge the top scorer on the mat roster. In the tournament, Indiana's second place win was accredited to Sam McClemens, Ed Branish, and "Jiggs" Cornell. All these men took second place honors. Marshall Policicchio, the local's 147 pound contender finished in first place, a state champion in his weight class. He went on to compete in the Tri-State Tournament.

Coach Ray Bernabei saw his scrappy, but inexperienced, Indian soccer squad "boot" too many close ones last fall and end what could have easily been a 5-3-0 season with a 2-5-1 mark. The Braves whipped Kiski twice, 7-1 and 7-0; tied Grove City, 3-3; and lost to Slippery Rock, 4-0; to Frostburg, 6-2; to Grove City, 3-2; to Westminster, 1-0; and to Lock Haven, 5-2. Sam Thomas, Dave Rosenberg, Paul Perhosky and Bob Buchanan played their final season.

Meeting some stiff opposition during their season, Coach George Miller's swimmers won one and dropped five. They edged Kiski in the opening meet of the campaign, 28-24, and then lost to Edinboro, 6-23; to W and J, 17-64; to Slippery Rock, 11-73; to Carnegie Tech, 18-78; and to Grove City, 30-53.

Handicapped as in previous years by the inadequate surfacing of the tennis courts, Coach Trevor Hadley's racquet wielders managed to finish the campaign with two wins to their credit. They dropped six. With the loss of only one regular, Nick Ostrowski, the Hadleymen should come through in '52 with a winning aggregation, a factor that should raise the popularity of the sport on the ISTC campus.

Highlighted by an invitation tournament at Juniata College, the Indiana golfers under the tutorship of Dr. Rhodes Stabley ended the season with an even break of five wins, five losses. Ed Matko, Bill Dickson, and Sonny Serene wound up their collegiate careers for the linksmen, who looked forward to an even more successful season in '52, what with a lot of experience back in the fold.

Since our group provides the only organized sports for women at the college, we have a full schedule of activities. Our main project is a playday to which we invite college women outside Indiana. This year we held a Christmas party, sponsored square dances, and organized tennis and badminton tournaments besides usual intramurals. Carolyn Zoretich is president; Jo Weaver, vice-president; Nancy Wagner, secretary; Pat Odell, treasurer; and Malinda Hamblen, adviser.

Wet feet, curl-less hair, and frozen ears didn't keep us from leading Big Indian roaters during football season, nor did crowded gymnasiums at basketball games. With the help of Bob Scalpello as the Indian, Little Joe, and his sidekick, Melda Good as Kitchidakippa, we rallied ISTCers at pep meetings, and traveled to games with the team. The squad was selected by the school spirit committee, headed by Dr. Paul A. Risheberger.

Now that the year is over, each of us can look back through collected dance programs, snapshots, and ticket stubs, and relive the personal high spots in its busy calendar. And if we compared notes, we'd find that some events ranked high on every list. Here on these pages, we have gathered photographs of a few highlights, but since we can't include a picture of each one, we'll begin at the beginning to refresh your memories with a written sketch. First of all came registration days, with the long queues in the gym and the hectic programming problems. Making out a schedule is one job that never becomes routine, no matter how many times you've struggled through it. "State of the Union," the Mademoiselle fashion show, and the senior "Foliage Festival" prom spotlighted the September social calendar. The campus ROTC unit received its flag on Memorial Field at the same time. Homecoming day, with the California game and the parade of floats, rang in October. The judges picked the Sigma Tau Gamma Showboat trophy winner this year, and Delta Sigma Chi won honorable mention.

Sig Chi's float capped honorable mention at Home-coming.

The first Cultural Life program, the Basque Singers, was followed by those memorable Freshman Customs days. "Grin and bear it" became the frosh byword then, and it's not such a bad motto for any of us. The Greek letter men and their dates swayed to Al Marco's music at the Interfraternity Dance in November; the Barter Theater players presented "Merchant of Venice," and then followed "Green Valley," the "heavenly" sophomore prom, and the Revlon clinic. December brought the soprano, Lucille Cummins, the Student Council Band Benefit Show, and the Christmas formal dinner and dance. This year's presentation of the Boar's Head Carol was the best ever, but then isn't it always? Dwight Cooke, commentator, was the January Cultural Life selection, and "It's Laughter We're After" ended the month on a camedy note. Delta Sigma Epsilon's "Kaktus Kutups" captured the women's cup, and Sigma Tau Gamma took the men's cup with "The Maharajah Matriculates." (In January also came semester registration with more scheduling warries.) The Pittsburgh Symphany with Paul Paray conducting, the men's glee club concert, the freshman prom, "Coral Reef," and the Masquers' presentation of "Faustus" and "Gammer Gurton's Needle" filled February's calendar. Sorority women and their escarts visited the Mardi Gras at the Panhellenic Dance in March. Then in rapid succession came Spiritual Enrichment Week, the Pennsylvania Intercollegiate Chorus, the ROTC ball, and the annual Merchandise Fair. April brought the junior prom in an air of surrealism, and Easter Cantata Vespers, and then with warm weather came May and Swing Out weekend. "A Year and a Dame," an ariginal musical comedy by two Indiana alumni, and the crowning of the May queen were highlights of the traditional celebration, which pragressed with the usual round of alumni teas and banquets. Then an we went until finals, and now we're packing up with our heads full af plans for the summer. All in all, it's been a wonderful year, and one which we won't forget. Here's hoping this brief summary of events has accomplished what it set out to do—to keep the year 1951-52 a favorite for a long time to come.

After one week of classes, the freshman women were caught in a whirl of coke dates, TP get-togethers football games, breakfasts, and spaghetti dinners that mean rush season. Since there are more fraternities on campus now than in previous years, rushing became much more intensive.

As a result, Panhellenic Association members met with Dr. Pratt and Student Council to work out a better program for the future. Rushing was confined to weekends for the remainder of the season, which ended with formal parties the week of October 22. Bidding took place October 29, after a "silent" weekend.

Angels ushered rushees into a star-decked "Heaven" at the Delt rush party, though Boots Blackham made a convincing Devil at the foot of the golden stairs. Besides the clouds and cupids, we'll recall our service projects, which included sending contributions to a Carville, Louisiana hospital, making a CARE package, and remembering our aged hospital with a gift.

Making scrapbooks and collecting storybooks for children at the Indiana Hospital proved fun as well as worthwhile projects for us this year. Since we were all "in voice" at the "Gypsy Rondo," our rush party, we joined in several campus serenades later on. A "Laughter" skit, a Christmas party, and a Valentine fun-fest were some of our social highlights.

Our year of fun began with a picnic at the college lodge. The "Dream Castle" for rushees, the Homecoming float and tea, the Christmas party, senior banquet, and Mother's Day tea headed our social calendar. Service-wise, we maintained a toy cart at the Indiana Hospital, made ditty bags for the Red Cross, and gave a Christmas basket to a needy family.

"Hare today, goon tomorrow" was the motto of the hilarious skit put on at the "Aquatic Fantasy," our rush party. We sent two delegates to the Buffalo convention, and dedicated a book of the fraternity's history to the college library. Through an annual fund, we helped support the crippled children's hospitals and the Seeing Eye Foundation. A Christmas party and a senior banquet were also high spots on the year's calendar.

We opened the year on Homecoming day with a float entered in the annual parade and a tea given by alumnae. We climaxed a successful rush season with an evening at the "Deep Purple Ball." Monthly teas with the alumnae were held by the sorority. The "Tri Sigs" also enjoyed a Christmas party, Valentine party, Senior send-off dinner, and had a tea honoring our mothers at Swing Out.

The "Theta Candyland" float and a tea for Homecoming set us into the swing of things. A Gay Nineties party closed the rush season. Panhellenic council accepted us as a social sorority in November. After our "Laughter Skit" we held our annual Valentine Party at Greiner's. In the spring was the annual Mother's Day tea and a senior banquet. Our social service projects included a CARE package and sending clothes to a family in Greece.

Interfraternity Council is composed of two members from each fraternity on campus, making a total of ten representatives. The dean of men, Walter M. Whitmyre, is adviser. Among the accomplishments of the council for the year were revision of the constitution by-laws by a committee made up of one member from each fraternity, and several additions to rushing rules. The Interfraternity Dance in November, sponsared annually by the council, featured a Parisian theme. A member of each fraternity served as chairman for the various dance committees. Believing fraternities to be an important part of campus life, we have directed our efforts toward improving our houses, to enable us to hold more open houses and parties next year. Through these and other activities, we hope to foster closer interfraternal relationships.

After a 48-hour silence period, pledging in mid-March climaxed the official rush season of campus fraternities, following a successful round of formal rush parties and smokers. Eligible men may be pledged at any time after the initial pledge date, as set up by interfraternity council. In keeping with a nation-wide trend, the traditional "hell week" has been turned into a "help week," during which pledges perform duties beneficial to both campus and community.

What is it, this real and yet intangible thing called student life at Indiana? Many have waxed poetic about it; few have succeeded in defining it, so we won't attempt to compose a definition that Webster would accept. To our way of thinking, there is a significance in everyday happenings that can't be captured in mere words. Flash upon flash they come as we write—frosh customs stubbornly endured as the initiation to the campus, the good-natured wisecracks about Ma Folger's coaking, weekly dances where romances bloom, haurs spent at Barclay's in deep discussion and companionship, Christmas and the Boar's Head Carol, the first snow and the tangled bus schedules, the squirrels in the oak grave, the darm serenades. All these things and so many more. You fill in the gaps, you Indians. It's your life to live and to remember.
